CHENJU VILLAGERS ALARMED AT JAPANESE MARINES

Upon noticing at about 7 a.m. yesterday some 80 Japanese officers and marines on horse back and on foot in the vicinity of the Chenju Railway Station and Yang Ka Jao Bridge, the people of Chenju Village became greatly alarmed and reported the matter to the Chenju Police Station. Mr. Lien Kuo-shih (李國時), officer-in-charge of the Police Station, and his men went to the scene and asked the Japanese officers and marines to leave. The Japanese officers stated that they came to Chenju merely for sight-seeing and that for this reason they had not brought weapons.

Fearing that certain misunderstanding might arise, Mr. Lieu again requested the Japanese to leave the village. In consequence, the Japanese officers returned to Shanghai at about 8 a.m.

After the Japanese had departed, the officer-in-charge of the Chenju Police Station submitted a report on the matter to the Police Bureau in order that the latter might request the Shanghai City Government to lodge a protest with the Japanese Consulate-General.

It is learned that Japanese marines have often been noticed in Woosung, Miaohong, Tazang and other places recently; they have never notified the Chinese authorities beforehand.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR JAPANESE NAVAL LANDING PARTY ARRIVE.

Two batches of Japanese marines, numbering 224, who have been transferred from Sasebo by order of the Ministry of Navy at Tokyo, arrived at Shanghai on board the s.s. Shanghai Maru and Nagasaki Maru during the past several days. Eleven officers who were selected from the "Kinukasa", "Kirishima" and other warships are also due in Shanghai.

The arrivals have been taken on the strength of the Japanese Naval Landing Party in Shanghai. It is said that large quantities of munitions have also been transported to Shanghai to meet the demands of the Naval Landing Party.

STRENGTH OF JAPANESE NAVAL LANDING PARTY IN SHANGHAI :
ARRIVAL OF MORE REINFORCEMENTS

The public are eager to know the actual number of Japanese marines in Shanghai.

After the occurrence of the Taminato affair last year, it was estimated that there were about 13,000 Japanese marines in Shanghai. At that time, the local Japanese community asked their Consular authorities to wire the Tokyo Government for reinforcements. Owing to strong opposition from various circles, Japan did not despatch reinforcements openly.

According to reliable information now in hand, a batch of 83 young marines arrived in Shanghai from Sasebo on June 9 on the s.s. "Nagasaki Maru", while a second batch of 141 marines, led by Ito, reached here on June 13 on the s.s. "Shanghai Maru".

COMPLICATED SHANGHAI

By the showing of the "New Earth," a film insulting to China, we learn that films shown in the Foreign Settlements in Shanghai are subject to the censorship of two separate authorities, the Film Censorship Committee of the Chinese Government and the authorities in the Settlements. The latter are again divided into two independent bodies, viz., the International Settlement and the French Concession. It is really a difficult task to have to obtain the permission of three official bodies for the showing of a picture.

According to past practice, films that are approved by the Chinese authorities but not approved by the Settlement authorities cannot be shown in the Settlements. On the other hand, all films that are approved by the Settlement authorities can be shown in the Settlements, as witness the showing of the "New Earth." Since the Foreign Settlements are the heart of Shanghai, it is therefore necessary to pay regard to the opinion of the Settlement authorities if one wishes to show a picture in Shanghai.

Publications are in a similar position as films, for they are also subject to the control of both the Chinese and Settlement authorities. Innumerable instances can be named wherein the publication of literature censored and approved by the Chinese authorities resulted in prosecutions being instituted or ban being placed by the Settlement authorities.

Recently the inspection of factories has been much talked about. It appears that the factories are also to be placed under more than one controlling body.

ACTIVITIES OF JAPANESE MARINES IN SHANGHAI

Following the occurrence of the recent incident in Swatow, the Japanese forces in Shanghai have become suddenly active. Japanese armoured cars have been constantly seen patrolling the streets and Japanese patrol parties often appear in the vicinity of North Szechuen Road.

On the night of May 26, the Japanese forces hastily put up military telephone lines in the Western district of Shanghai, connecting the Toyoda Cotton Mill with the Headquarters of the Japanese Landing Forces through the Dah Kung No.3 Mill.

At 9 a.m. yesterday, about 20 Japanese marines riding in eight military trucks proceeded to the Western district where they made a survey of the district from Chung Shan Road (中山路) up to Ferry Road. Japanese marines were also found to be making a survey on Yu Yuen Road.

Sin Wan Pao and other local newspapers publish the following telegram from Kuling :-

ARRIVAL OF GENERAL CHIANG KAI SHEK AT LUSHAN

General Chiang Kai-shek, who, accompanied by General Chien Ta-chun, his Chief Aide-de-Camp, and others, left Nanking on May 23 in a gunboat for upstream and made an inspection along the river, arrived at Lushan on May 27. The Generalissimo has fully recovered his health and will resume his duties on the expiry of his leave. He will have several days' stay at Lushan which he has visited in connection with the military training for this summer.

Dr. Wang Chung-hui, Minister of Foreign Affairs, will continue to act as President of the Executive Yuan until General Chiang's return to Nanking.

Crystal (晶板) published the following report on May 27 :-

FILM CENSORSHIP COMMITTEE UNDER DIRECT CONTROL OF CENTRAL PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT OF THE KUOMINTANG

Since his appointment as the Head of the Central Publicity Department of the Kuomintang, Mr. Shao Iih-ts (邵力子) has introduced many reforms in his office. For example, the Film Censorship Committee, which was formerly under the Executive Yuan in name but was in reality an independent office, is now placed under the direct control of the Central Publicity Department.

The report that Mr. Faung Hsi-kung (方希立), Deputy Chief of the Central Publicity Department, will be transferred is without foundation.

THE BAN ON HONGKEW

"Out of Bounds to Troops"

To the Editor of the

"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—I beg to support the very reasonable protest of your correspondent D.K. appearing in your issue of Monday, April 19, against the ban on Hongkew by the American and British military and naval commanders for their men which has now been in force for the past eight months!

One assumes that the main reason for this extraordinary severity upon the legitimate trading interests of the district by the American and British authorities, has something to do with the extraordinary and exaggerated military activities so regularly displayed by the Japanese military authorities, and that this ban upon Hongkew has been instituted to prevent any possible clashing or unpleasantness between the various warriors concerned.

I wonder if it ever occurs to the Japanese commanders here that their own trading community is losing out very badly indeed by their absurd over-accentuation of militarism amongst a peaceful civilian population? I wonder! I suppose not!

It is high time that the high Japanese military authorities began to soft-pedal with this much overdone militaristic stuff, because it has become a positive nuisance and is causing many persons like myself—who admire the Japanese civilization, to begin to wonder if their commanding officers know very much beyond their military arts and duties.

May I inform Japanese militarists that armies and navies have to be paid for out of taxes derived from trading. The funds to pay for armies and navies do not come from Heaven, but from the pockets of the populace in the course of trading with one another.

If Japanese armed forces are going to continue to ruin Hongkew as a residential and trading district, it is at least comforting to know that of all the foreign population living in the district the Japanese community will suffer the most.

I understand that Japanese do not dare to question anything done by their militarists, but it really seems important that someone should inform these excellent gentlemen that they are over-playing their hand in Hongkew.

Fancy a situation in which American and British troops are forbidden to enter a whole half of this great city, simply because the Japanese military are making themselves supremely ridiculous before the whole city by over-doing their job!

I hope this letter will come to the notice of the Japanese authorities and that they will have the good sense to put a stop to ruining the trading interests of Hongkew which, after all, is so largely populated by Japanese residents.

Cannot the Commanding Officers of the American, British and Japanese forces in this region have dinner together and over their whiskies and sodas come to some reasonable and common-sense understanding about this matter?

BAN ON HONGKEW

"Out of Bounds" to Troops

To the Editor of the

"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR.—The average man in Shanghai does not know that Hongkew is out of bounds to the British and American men in uniform for the last eight months. Is it so with the authorities concerned? What steps has the Shanghai Municipal Council taken to lift the ban, if any? Why do our newspapers keep a silence on such a vital question.

We are expected to pay our taxes, licences and all other obligations to the Municipal Council regularly, which as I understand are one third of the total revenues.

The fact that the whole Hongkew has been put out of bounds to the uniformed men reflects on the whole situation and brings conditions in this district to abnormalcy. By it we lose not only the trade of the men in uniform, but the trade of the tourists as well. As for the residents most of them have already left and others are leaving the district with no hope of returning.

Could not our new Councillors put an end to our obviously endless hardships?

With a bit of diplomacy, we believe, the ban could be lifted from the main thoroughfare, Broadway, and later on from the whole district.

CITIZENS REQUEST WITHDRAWAL OF JAPANESE MARINES
FROM NORTHERN DISTRICT

The 25th Branch of the First Special District Citizens' Federation yesterday sent the following petition to the Shanghai City Government and the local Tangpu:-

"Regarding the patrol of Japanese marines along North Szechuen Road, we request you to communicate with the Japanese Consular Authorities for an immediate withdrawal of the marines in order to pacify the public and thus maintain business and trade. In our opinion the collapse of business is due to repeated fabrication of rumours since the January 28th Incident. The Chapei and North Szechuen Road areas are the first to be affected by these rumours which have been circulated every year. It is for this reason that no reconstruction has taken place since the local hostilities, the population has been reduced and trade has not revived. Squads of Japanese marines appear on the streets all day long, and this has a serious repercussion on business. The Citizens' Federation, at the request of its members, has petitioned you before in connection with this matter, but with no result.

"For the sake of the rehabilitation of the district and the peace of the community, we hereby submit another petition in the hope that you will immediately negotiate with the Japanese Consul for the withdrawal of the Japanese marines stationed at the Yung Foong Building, North Szechuen Road, and the marines posted on duty and patrolling along that road."

WITHDRAWAL OF JAPANESE MARINE PATROLS DESIRED

The Shanghai First Special District Citizens' Federation has submitted a petition to the Shanghai City Government requesting it to open negotiations for the withdrawal of the Japanese marines stationed in the Yung Foong Building and the cessation of street marine patrols so as to pacify the public and give a chance for business to revive.

The posting of marine sentries and the sending out of marine patrols is liable to create public excitement and has caused considerable loss of business. The Japanese Landing Party should give some consideration to public feeling and the decline in trade.

The Japanese Army paid no heed to the hardships of their own merchants and industrialists in North China caused by the increase in the strength of the Japanese Garrison in the North; therefore, it is doubtful whether the Japanese Army will consider the Federation's request.

The action of the Italian marines is detrimental to public order and peace and is especially to be deplored in view of the fact that the Isis Theatre is located on an extra-settlement road and is therefore within the jurisdiction of the Chinese Police.

"The film "Abyssinia" had been carefully censored by the Chinese Government. The Italians should not have disregarded our rights by interfering with the showing of the film.

"We suggest that the Shanghai City Government be requested to open negotiations with the Italian authorities."

"We understand that the matter has already been taken up by the City Government. The Italians, however, are trying to evade their responsibility.

"The City Government should continue the negotiations until the Italian authorities have paid compensation, punished the culprits and given an assurance that such incidents will not occur in future."

It is reported that a movement will also be started by the Japanese Branch to persuade him to change his mind because he has won the confidence of the entire Branch and he knows how to deal with Europeans.

Mr. Tajima states that his resignation is due to reasons of health and family affairs, but it is reported that certain complicated matters are connected with his resignation.

The question of Mr. Tajima's successor has also been brought up and Assistant Commissioner Uyehara, who successfully dealt with the Nakayama murder case, will probably succeed Mr. Tajima.

SENSELESS COMPLAINT BY CHINESE AGAINST JAPANESE MARINES

Chinese residents in the Hongkew and Chapei districts have frequently complained against the activities of the Japanese Naval Landing Party. The other day they sent a petition to the Chinese Citizens Federation and the District Kuomintang requesting them to stop these activities.

On February 27 the First District Citizens Federation sent a letter to the City Government requesting it to ask the Japanese naval authorities to withdraw from the Young Feng Building on North Szechuen Road on the ground that its occupation and the detailing of marine patrols since the Haining Road incident would be misunderstood by the Chinese people and be harmful to Chinese business.

Japanese marines patrol to protect the lives and property of Japanese and they have nothing to do with the Chinese. Can Chinese guarantee that there will be no more anti-Japanese acts of terrorism when the Japanese marine patrols have been withdrawn? Japanese residents are now able to conduct their business in peace under the protection of the marine force. The unreasonable demand of the Chinese hurts Japanese feelings.

WITHDRAWAL OF JAPANESE MARINE PATROLS FROM HONGKEW DESIRED

The Shanghai First Special District Citizens' Federation held a meeting yesterday. Mr. Zau Ts Kung (曹老功) presided.

The following resolution was passed :-
"That, at the request of the 25th Branch of the Federation, the Shanghai City Government be petitioned to open negotiations for the withdrawal of the Japanese marine patrols from Hongkew District".

Sin Wan Pao (Evening Edition) published the following comment on February 24 :-

As business in the Hongkew District has been seriously affected by the presence of Japanese marine patrols, the residents in the district have submitted a petition to the Citizens' Federation asking it to request the local Tangpu and other political organizations to open negotiations with the Japanese Consulate-General for the withdrawal of these marine patrols. A solution of this problem is necessary for the sake of trade.

Last year when a Japanese marine was murdered, Japanese marines were sent out as if they were about to face a strong enemy. The Hongkew District thus became a place of terror. The situation has now returned to normal, but Japanese marines are still holding demonstrations, while Japanese armoured cars continue to patrol the streets. We cannot see the object of all these activities.

The holding of demonstrations by Japanese marines in Chinese territory is harmful to business and constitutes an infringement of China's sovereign rights. For this reason, the authorities should take action. Since the new Japanese Cabinet has declared that it will change its policy towards China and will work for the restoration of friendly relations between the two nations, we hope that the Japanese Cabinet will put a stop to such activities by Japanese marines in China.

BUSINESS IN HONGKEW AFFECTED BY JAPANESE MARINE PATROLS

Business in the Hongkew District has been seriously affected by the presence of Japanese marine patrols on the streets. Landlords are pressing for payment of house rents and sealed houses are to be seen everywhere.

On February 23, the 25th Branch of the Shanghai First Special District Citizens' Federation sent a letter to the Tenants' Association asking it to work for a reduction of house rent.

The 25th Branch also sent the following petition to the Citizens' Federation :-

"Many rumours were current last year in the Hongkew District and as a result, many residents removed from the district and many of them have never returned. Owing to oppression by landlords, large numbers of houses in the Hongkew District have been sealed for non-payment of rent. Thus business in Hongkew has seriously declined.

"Japanese marines are being stationed in the Yung Foong Building (永年大樓) and armoured cars and large squads of Japanese marines are patrolling the streets as if they were about to face a strong enemy. The residents are excited and business is at a standstill. Members of this Branch have made many requests for negotiations to be opened for the withdrawal of the Japanese marine patrols and for the removal of the marines from the Yung Foong Building.

"At a recent meeting held by this Branch, a resolution was passed to the effect that the Federation be petitioned to request the Shanghai City Government, the local Tangpu, the Chinese Ratepayers' Association and other organizations to open negotiations with the Japanese Consulate-General for the withdrawal of Japanese marine patrols in Hongkew so that business in the district may be revived".

THE FACTORY INSPECTION PROBLEM

The Bureau of Social Affairs has established a Factory Inspectorate with Mr. Dien Woo Ching (田維清) as Chief who will act concurrently as Chief Factory Inspector.

Mr. Dien has made the following statement to our reporter :- "Owing to financial stringency, the Factory Inspectorate is being attached to the Bureau of Social Affairs for the time being. As there are numerous factories in this locality, inspection is essential. The local factory inspection will be carried out in accordance with the Factory Law. Safety and sanitary devices in factories and the condition of workers will be looked into with a view to improving the livelihood of the hands and the organization of factories. Experts will be invited to join Committees to assist in the work of the Inspectorate".

UNREASONABLE COMPLAINT OF HONGKOW CHINESE
AGAINST JAPANESE MARINE PATROLS

Owing to the frequent occurrence of acts of anti-Japanese terrorism, the Japanese Special Landing Party adopted precautionary measures by posting sentries and dispatching patrols to protect the lives and property of the 30,000 Japanese residents in Shanghai. The situation has now become quiet and Japanese residents are able to conduct their business in peace.

On February 6 the Executive Committee of the Hongkew Branch of the Shanghai Citizens Federation held a meeting and passed a resolution that the Shanghai City Government be requested to open negotiations with the local Japanese Consulate-General for the cancellation of the precautionary measures adopted by the Japanese Landing Party. Their complaint is groundless.

Owing to the acts of anti-Japanese terrorism, places and areas which Japanese marines were permitted to visit were limited. CO-OPERATION BETWEEN POLICE AND CITIZENS
NECESSARY TO CURB CRIME WAVE

The following is a brief translation of a leading article published by the Shanghai Mainichi on the above subject:-

The continued acts of anti-Japanese terrorism in Shanghai, such as the Nakayama, the Kayau and the Taminato murders, caused the S.M.P. to establish a Special Political Office.

Chinese terrorists are active in Shanghai because they have great influence among Chinese political and social circles. The suppression of these lawless elements is an important problem facing the S.M.P., but the Police are experiencing great difficulty because their power is limited while the gangs of lawless elements are well organized and have great influence; furthermore, the victims do not communicate with Police for fear of trouble.

In the suppression of lawless elements we believe that co-operation between the Police and citizens will have good results. For this reason, we hope that the Police will endeavour to secure assistance from citizens while citizens should assist the Police in order to enable them to suppress criminals.

PURCHASE OF OLD COTTON, BRASS AND IRON

Of late the subjects of a certain nation have engaged a large number of Chinese traitors to purchase large quantities of used cotton, old fishing nets and old brass and iron in Shanghai, all of which are materials indispensable for the manufacture of arms and armaments. Many of the traitors who have been well paid have established shops in various parts of Shanghai and have engaged persons to visit alleyways to buy such materials. Hence the presence of so many itinerant hawkers in Chinese controlled territory and the Settlements.

It is learned that as soon as these materials have been purchased, they are placed on warships for transportation in order to evade inspection by Customs officials.

"SEARCH PARTY"

The other day the writer of this article happening to pass by the corner of North Szechuen Road and Range Road noticed a party of Japanese marines in full military kit and armed with rifles with fixed bayonets, accompanied by a number of tanks and military trucks laden with armed marines pass recklessly through the Settlement.

When he reached the corner of Dixwell Road, he suddenly found himself face to face with several armed marines who had approached from the corner of the XX Company. With their fixed bayonets, they stood in his way and shouted: "Stop, Chinese!"

He at once obeyed as did other Chinese pedestrians who happened to be near that place. They then searched him, after which they struck him in the posterior with the butts of their rifles and cursed him saying: "Chinese pig, get away!"

Just at about this time, a fruit hawker happened to approach. The marines approached and overturned one of the baskets, thereby scattering all the bananas and pears over the ground.

Noticing this, one of the on-lookers who stood near the writer of this article angrily said to himself in a low voice: "There is no justice at all. The only way is to fight them." The writer of the article did not venture a reply.

The appeal of the C.M.C. against the release of Chang Yung Woo (张荣和), a congee hawker, who was arrested by the Police on suspicion of being connected with the murder of a Japanese marine named Taminato, has been dismissed by the Hiangsu High Court. The congee hawker has now regained his freedom.

According to Chang Yung Woo, when he was arrested and taken to the Japanese Marine Post on Chapoo Road, he was assaulted and his face and body became swollen as a result of the assault. At 8 p.m. that day, he was again taken there where he was beaten and interrogated until 2 o'clock in the morning, after which he was sent to the Japanese Marine Headquarters. Subsequently, he was removed to a Police Station. Before he left the Headquarters, a doctor examined his injuries and gave him two injections.

The assaulting of a suspect can produce no good. Now that the injuries of the man have been examined, the authorities concerned should be charged with causing bodily harm.

After Chang Yung Woo's arrest, his home at No.8 Hsin Zai Kong Li (新瑞康里) was searched by Japanese marines. Later the chief tenant drove out the parents of the arrested man because they had not paid the rent for three months. His parents lived for 10 days at the entrance to a nearby alleyway before they went to live in an unoccupied house.

Chang Yung Woo has no money to start another business or for travelling expenses to enable him to go back to his native place. As he is now sick he cannot sell congee.

THE HAINING ROAD INCIDENT

It is indeed unfortunate that Chang Yung Woo (張榮和), the suspect in the Haining Road Incident, should have been made to endure all kinds of ill-treatment and suffering.

I remember seeing a photograph in the "Livelihood Weekly" showing Chang kneeling before a Japanese marine with the upper part of his body naked. One can well imagine how Chang must have been maltreated.

Chang has now been found not guilty by the Court and released.

Some are inclined to doubt the efficiency of the law to protect the rights of the people, but the case of Chang shows us that the law can uphold justice after all.

Yang Wen Dao (楊文道) and Yih Hai Sung (葉海生), the accused in the Nakayama Case, are also asserting that they have been wrongfully accused and they are appealing against the sentences passed on them. We hope the law will give them justice if it is true that they are being wrongfully accused.

A "CHI-NA" HAWKER

The life of a food hawker is really hard.
On September 23rd this year,
An imperial marine was suddenly killed.
A crowd soon gathered.
I had a congee stall nearby
And was alarmed by the pistol shots.
I hurried forward to look after my friend Yu

Zang Tai (張太)

Who was selling cooked rice nearby.
Poor people have poor friends
And are concerned over one another's well-being.
Unexpectedly I stepped into trouble
And was held as a suspect
And taken to Marine Headquarters.
A big voice ordered me to kneel
And a pistol was pointed at my head.
I was too scared to talk.
I had incurred this mishap because of a hope to secure a reward.

For this I was kept in prison for three months
And underwent various kinds of hardships.
Subsequently I was found not guilty
And now I am selling congee again.
Since September 23rd
My parents have wept bitterly.
They were thrown out from their home by the landlord,

For non-payment of rent for three months.
They sought help everywhere
And longed for my return.
My father borrowed one dollar
And gave the money to me
So that I could get a shave and change of clothing.
Genuine kindness and love
Is to be found among poor people only!
I hear there is an Unjust Prosecution Compensations

Committee,

But does it look after hawkers?
As my case involved the "friendly nation"
Why would dare to take it up?

Following the murder of a Japanese marine named Taminato at the corner of North Szechuen and Haining Roads, a hawker named Chang Yong Woo (張榮和) was arrested and charged at the Shanghai First Special District Court with "destruction of evidence". He was alleged to have concealed in a sand box the mauser pistol used in the crime. The Court found Chang not guilty on the ground that he had no intention to commit a crime. The Shanghai Municipal Council has filed an appeal with the 2nd Branch Kiangsu High Court against this decision.

In the appeal, it is stated: "Chang Yong Woo arrived upon the scene of crime a few minutes after the report of the pistol was heard. He picked up the weapon used in the crime and must certainly have been aware of the fact that it had been used to commit a crime and that it was an important piece of evidence. He then deliberately attempted to conceal the weapon. It is evident that he had attempted to destroy the evidence for others."

In other words, previous arrangements had been made for the murderer to throw away the pistol after he had shot the marine and Chang was to come upon the scene, pick up and conceal the pistol. We cannot imagine a more foolish suggestion!

The statement made by Chang Yong Woo in the 2nd Branch Kiangsu High Court to the effect that he had failed to report to the Police because he was afraid that he might be taken for the murderer, that he had concealed the pistol and had intended to make a report later on in the hope of earning a reward, and that he had no intention to destroy the evidence appears to be natural and convincing.

Dissatisfied with the judgment, the S.M.C. filed an appeal with the Second Branch of the Kiangsu High Court. The appeal was heard yesterday afternoon by Presiding Judge Yoh Hwa (郁華) and Judges Siao (蕭) and Chow (周) of the Second Branch of the Kiangsu High Court.

After Mr. Chang Sze Tso, the Municipal Advocate, had outlined the reasons for the appeal, Chang Yung Woo, the accused, was brought before the Court for interrogation.

In reply to questions put by the Court, the accused said: "On the night of September 23, I was selling congee on Haining Road. Suddenly I heard several reports of pistol shots. As my relation Yu Zang Tai (俞子泰) kept a cooked rice stall at the entrance of Lane No. 15, I immediately rushed to the place in order to find out whether he was safe. Whilst passing by the entrance of the lane, my foot kicked against an article, and on picking it up, I noticed that it was a pistol. As I had never seen a pistol before, I became excited, fearing that I might be mistaken for the murderer. Therefore, I concealed the pistol inside the sand box at the entrance of the alleyway, with the intention of reporting it to the Police afterwards in the hope also of earning a reward. However, I had hardly taken a few steps when I was arrested by a Japanese. I actually had no intention to conceal the pistol in the hope of gaining unlawful benefits."

Afterwards, the Court ordered both sides to sum up their cases.

The Municipal Advocate said: "The S.M.C. can hardly be satisfied with the judgment of the Court of First Instance which found the accused not guilty. The accused discovered the pistol after he had heard reports of pistol firing. Despite the fact that he knew full well that the pistol was the weapon used in the murder and that it constituted evidence in a criminal case, yet he recklessly concealed it inside the sand box. Who can believe that his act was not intended to destroy the evidence? One fact is clear: he concealed evidence which could be used in a criminal charge against others after the murder was committed. Unfortunately, the principal criminal is still at large. (It is quite obvious that there is a principal criminal who had intended to conceal this evidence, but unfortunately this person is still at large at present.) Therefore, there is sufficient evidence to justify a charge against the accused under Article 165 of the Criminal Code. The Court is therefore requested to cancel the original judgment and mete out appropriate punishment upon the accused."

Summing up for the defence, lawyer Tan Yoh Hwa said: "It is to be noted that in order to justify a charge under Article 165 of the Criminal Code, the following are necessary:-

- 1) Whether the accused had the deliberate intention to destroy the evidence.
- 2) Whoever conceals any evidence in a criminal case in which another is implicated.
- 3) There must be available an accused in this criminal charge.

"However, with the exception of the second point, there is no evidence available regarding the first and the third points. Moreover, the accused in throwing the pistol into the sand box had hoped to earn some reward by reporting to the Police later. He had absolutely no intention of destroying the evidence. As regards the postic of an accused in a criminal charge against others, the ruling laid down by the defunct Court/Cassation and the explanations given by the Supreme Court is that such a person is not to be regarded as an accused until he has been tried by a competent Court. Moreover, the murderer or murderers in the present case are still at large and have not yet been arrested, nor has any information been received from any person as to their whereabouts. From this, it can be seen that there was no accused available at that time. For this reason, the Court is requested to uphold the original judgment and dismiss the appeal."

The Presiding Judge Yoh then adjourned the hearing to November 30 when judgment will be delivered. The accused was ordered to be held by the Police.

He engaged lawyer Tan Y h Hwa to defend him. As a result of several hearing he was found not guilty by Judge Tsong Ching (钟清), whilst the pistol was ordered to be confiscated.

Dissatisfied with the judgment, the S.M.C. filed an appeal with the Second Branch of the Kiangsu High Court. The appeal was heard yesterday afternoon by Presiding Judge Yoh Hwa (有華) and Judges Siao (蕭) and Chow (周) of the Second Branch of the Kiangsu High Court.

After Mr. Chang Sze Tso, the Municipal Advocate, had outlined the reasons for the appeal, Chang Yung Woo, the accused, was brought before the Court for interrogation.

In reply to questions put by the Court, the accused said: "On the night of September 23, I was selling congee on Haining Road. Suddenly I heard several reports of pistol shots. As my relation Yu Zang Tai (俞張泰) kept a cooked rice stall at the entrance of Lane No. 15, I immediately rushed to the place in order to find out whether he was safe. Whilst passing by the entrance of the lane, my foot kicked against an article, and on picking it up, I noticed that it was a pistol. As I had never seen a pistol before, I became excited, fearing that I might be mistaken for the murderer. Therefore, I concealed the pistol inside the sand box at the entrance of the alleyway, with the intention of reporting it to the Police afterwards in the hope also of earning a reward. However, I had hardly taken a few steps when I was arrested by a Japanese. I actually had no intention to conceal the pistol in the hope of gaining unlawful benefits."

Afterwards, the Court ordered both sides to sum up their cases.

The Municipal Advocate said: "The S.M.C. can hardly be satisfied with the judgment of the Court of First Instance which found the accused not guilty. The accused discovered the pistol after he had heard reports of pistol firing. Despite the fact that he knew full well that the pistol was the weapon used in the murder and that it constituted evidence in a criminal case, yet he recklessly concealed it inside the sand box. Who can believe that his act was not intended to destroy the evidence? One fact is clear: he concealed evidence which could be used in a criminal charge against others after the murder was committed. Unfortunately, the principal criminal is still at large. (It is quite obvious that there is a principal criminal who had intended to conceal this evidence, but unfortunately this person is still at large at present.) Therefore, there is sufficient evidence to justify a charge against the accused under Article 165 of the Criminal Code. The Court is therefore requested to cancel the original judgment and mete out appropriate punishment upon the accused."

Summing up for the defence, lawyer Tan Yoh Hwa said: "It is to be noted that in order to justify a charge under Article 165 of the Criminal Code, the following are necessary:-

- 1) Whether the accused had the deliberate intention to destroy the evidence.
- 2) Whoever conceals any evidence in a criminal case in which another is implicated.
- 3) There must be available an accused in this criminal charge.

"However, with the exception of the second point, there is no evidence available regarding the first and the third points. Moreover, the accused in throwing the pistol into the sand box had hoped to earn some reward by reporting to the Police later. He had absolutely no intention of destroying the evidence. As regards the position of an accused in a criminal charge against others, the ruling laid down by the defunct Court Cassation and the explanations given by the Supreme Court is that such a person is not to be regarded as an accused until he has been tried by a competent Court. Moreover, the murderer or murderers in the present case are still at large and have not yet been arrested, nor has any information been received from any person as to their whereabouts. From this, it can be seen that there was no accused available at that time. For this reason, the Court is requested to uphold the original judgment and dismiss the appeal."

The Presiding Judge Yoh then adjourned the hearing to November 30 when judgment will be delivered. The accused was ordered to be held by the Police.

Police Whistles, Etc.

"BE PREPARED" is to be the slogan in Shanghai's "Little Tokyo", where the citizens are henceforth to be provided with police whistles in order that they may promptly summon minions of the law in the event that untoward happenings occur in their vicinity.

This impresses us as "sound" practice and we feel that the idea should be extended in all directions:

Members and employees of the Shanghai Municipal Council, for example, might be provided with fog-horns as they prowls through the mist of secrecy enshrouding their headquarters. Restaurateurs might be allowed free use of hog-calling trumpets. Sing-song girls could employ moose lures fashioned out of birch-bark by former S.M.C. executives at leisure on pension. Newspapers—well, we are informed in reliable quarters that newspapers make enough noise already.

TRADING CONDITIONS IN HONGKEW

Prior to the January 28 incident, a large number of factories and mills existed in Chapei. Cwing to the acts of invasion by our strong neighbour and calamities of nature since the September 18 incident in 1931, the purchasing power of the people has become weaker and weaker and as a result many factories and shops in Shanghai, especially in Hongkew and Chapei, have closed down.

Chapei was devastated during the January 28 incident and it is almost impossible to restore it to its former prosperity although great efforts are being made. The Hongkew district lies within the jurisdiction of the S.M.C., but the Police rights of the Council have been lost. The Council has allowed the Japanese marines free action in Hongkew.

After the Haining Road murder case, Japanese detailed marines for sentry duty and established many marine posts. Japanese marines are even patrolling Chinese controlled territory. These measures gave rise to a panic among the people and large numbers of them removed from Chapei and Hongkew.

Recently, the various branches of the Citizens Federation in Hongkew issued a manifesto drawing attention to conditions in that district. The Japanese military authorities should realize that all unnecessary military movements, such as the detailing of sentries and the creation of marine posts, are liable to affect the business of Chinese as well as Japanese shops. For this reason, the Japanese military authorities should restrict their activities.

The S.M.C. should extend its Police rights in Hongkew and undertake full responsibility for public peace and order. House rents and Municipal Rate in Hongkew should also be reduced in consideration of the hardships of the merchants.

Chinese Appeal Answered By Japanese Newspaper

"Mainichi" Fails To Appreciate Attitude Given
In First Citizens' Association Because Of Continued Acts Of Terrorism

Replying editorially to the recent appeal of the First Special District Citizens' Association for Sino-Japanese mutual respect and sincerity, the Shanghai "Mainichi" yesterday declared that these could best be achieved by the Chinese reconsideration of their attitude.

"We agree with the Chinese organization that the two nations, because of the similarity in their racial characteristics and culture, must co-operate to bring about peace and prosperity in the Orient.

"We, however, fail to appreciate the Chinese attitude in the light of the recent acts of anti-Japanese terrorism and China's continued dependence on Occidental Powers."

Commenting on the Association's caustic comments on the actions taken by the Japanese Special Naval Landing Party to protect local Nipponese residents, the journal declared:

"Although Heaven be praised, Mr. S. Kagoshima received only slight injuries in the attack upon him by a Chinese would-be assassin, the incident is an eloquent demonstration of the continued rampancy of anti-Japanese terrorism. Why should any one wonder at our uneasiness,

"We hope, on the contrary, that the Naval Landing Party will augment its measures for the protection of the local Japanese community.

Hostile Acts Hurt Business

"The Chinese must realize," the journal continued, "that the prosperity of the Orient was affected not by Japan's actions but by the continuous acts of anti-Japanese terrorism."

Referring to the Association's appeal to Japanese travellers in the interior to "exercise proper caution to avoid misunderstandings," the "Mainichi" declared that "why speak of travel in the interior, when it is even dangerous to step out of one's doors in major cities."

The journal also pointed to the assassination of two Japanese newspapermen in Chengtu despite the fact that both possessed Chinese safe-conducts.

"With the inauguration of negotiations for a readjustment of the Sino-Japanese relations," the "Mainichi" concluded, "the anti-Japanese sentiment has assumed even more serious proportions, instead of abating. This shows the need for reflection on the part of the Chinese, if they sincerely desire to eliminate the seeds of unrest."

JOINT MEETING OF CHINESE AND JAPANESE BEING ARRANGED

Following the incident on Haining Road, the Japanese Naval Landing Party Headquarters adopted such strict measures that large numbers of people removed from Hongkew thereby causing a slump in the business of the shops, many of which had to close down. In view of this, the Shanghai First Special District Citizens Federation the other day issued an open letter addressed to local Japanese residents requesting them to advise their authorities not to do anything that may give rise to disputes and impair the friendly relations between China and Japan.

In sympathy with these views, the local Japanese Amalgamated Association of Street Unions has approached Mr. Liang Fu Tso (梁扶初), Officer-in-Charge of the North Railway Station Branch Bureau of Public Safety, for an introduction to the Shanghai First Special District Citizens Federation to arrange a joint meeting of Chinese and Japanese residents to discuss measures for friendly co-operation and for the relief of local business conditions.

The Shanghai First Special District Citizens Federation held a meeting the other day at which it was unanimously agreed that, in view of the importance of this matter, and provided that the Japanese residents are sincere, such a meeting be arranged. It is to be hoped that the Japanese residents will fix a date for the holding of this meeting which should be devoted exclusively to the discussion of measures for the relief of local trade. It was also suggested that Mr. Ling Kong Hou (林康侯), Chairman of the Federation, be invited to be present at the meeting.

The pistol was found in the sand box. The accused had confessed all this. The accused was selling congee on Haining Road near Woosung Road on the evening of the murder; Yu Zeng Tai and his wife Yu Li Sz (俞李氏) were also selling their wares at the entrance of Lane 15, Haining Road. This was found to be true by the S.M.P. The statements made by Yu Zeng Tai and his wife were also found to be true. This shows that the statement of the accused can be adopted and believed. The accused stated that he placed the pistol in the sand box because he wanted to get a reward later for reporting it to the Police. The investigations have failed to reveal any other motive behind the action of the accused. It is not sufficient to prove that the accused had an intention to obstruct justice. The accused is found not guilty under Section 1 of Article 293 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and under Paragraph 1, Section 1 of Article 38 and under Article 40 of the Criminal Code."

CITIZENS FEDERATION REQUESTS MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES TO POSTPONE THE COLLECTION OF MUNICIPAL RATES IN THE HONGKEW DISTRICT.

The local situation was greatly disturbed by the Haining Road Incident. The measures adopted by the Japanese Landing Party caused great alarm among the residents in Hongkew and Chapel to such an extent that large numbers removed from these districts. The tension still remains, consequently a very small number of residents have moved back into their former homes. This has caused a slump in the business of the shops in the district of Hongkew and a number had to close down.

The Municipal Rate for the Winter quarter was due last month and many shops were unable to pay. The Shanghai First Special District Citizens Federation has petitioned the local Municipal Authorities for a postponement of the collection of the municipal rate and also to set aside funds for the relief of the market.

Open Letter To The Local Japanese Community.

The Federation has also issued an open letter addressed to Japanese residents asking them to consider the future of the city and not to do anything that may give rise to disputes. It is said that the advice has been accepted by the local Japanese Consulate and the Japanese Residents Corporation.

The following is the open letter addressed by the Shanghai First Special District Citizens Federation to local Japanese residents :-

"China and Japan belong to the same race and are closely related to each other geographically and culturally. Peace in the Orient depends upon sincerity and mutual respect between the two countries. However, the foundations of Sino-Japanese friendship are being shaken by the policy of superiority adopted by your Government and should the present state of affairs be allowed to continue it will bring about the ruin of the two countries. Our sovereign rights have often been impaired since the September 18 Incident, and how have your people benefitted thereby? Externally, you have been severely criticised by the world, and internally your budget is expanding. Our merchants have suffered heavily since the September 18 Incident, especially after the Shanghai Hostilities in January, 1932. Recently, your marines in Shanghai have undertaken the patrolling of streets as if they were face to face with a formidable enemy. Their activities gave rise to a serious situation in Chapel and Hongkew. This Federation earnestly requests you to advise your authorities to put a curb on the activities of your marines in Shanghai so that people may carry on their business in peace. Furthermore, we advise you ~~not to~~ undertake journeys into the interior at the present time so as to avoid misunderstanding."

1st Special District Citizens' Federation - letter to Japanese residents in Shanghai

The 1st Special District Citizens' Federation, Chinese Chamber of Commerce Building, North Soochow Road, published in the Chinese newspapers, to-day, November 5, a letter to Japanese residents in Shanghai, advising them to request their military authorities not to aggravate the present situation by further provocative activities. The letter also asks the Japanese residents not to offend the susceptibilities of Chinese when they travel in the interior.

HONGKEW DISPLAYS BRING PROTEST

Petition From Chinese
Body Asks Japanese
Residents To Act

The First Special District Citizens' Federation, a powerful civilian organization in the Settlement, yesterday published a public letter to Japanese residents urging them to petition Japanese authorities to stop military manoeuvres in Hongkew and Chapei.

The letter also stated that during these manoeuvres Japanese residents should avoid travelling in interior China so as to eliminate the risk of misunderstandings. These two requests, according to the letter, are in keeping with the principles of mutual prosperity and co-existence of the two countries.

The policy aiming at self-aggrandizement adopted by the Japanese government, the letter continued, had shaken the foundation of the Sino-Japanese friendly relations and was cause for regret to those interested in the welfare of the two races.

The business of local Japanese merchants had suffered a serious setback since the Manchurian Incident and the January 28 Incident, according to the letter, which then drew attention to the bad affect of Japanese military manoeuvres in Hongkew and Chapei on business.

Further protests to Japan are likely to be made by China in connection with the Japanese military manoeuvres at Peiping following the death on Tuesday of a Chinese girl student, reported by the Shanghai Chinese press last night to have been crushed to death under a Japanese tank.

The manoeuvres were concluded yesterday with a grand review of the 6,000 troops participating. Chinese messages from Peiping reported, and through Tuesday night and early yesterday morning, there was great activity as the forces were concentrated.

The tragedy is reported to have occurred at about 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning, when a line of tanks entered the city at Chao Yang Gate, the girl being overtaken by one of them and crushed to death.
